

Bowen Engineering Corporation

General

Founded in 1967, Bowen Engineering Corporation is a General Contractor with operation centers located in Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee.

We spent our early years as an innovative builder of water and wastewater treatment plants. Our team now performs work for clients with diverse needs, including Industrial, Power-Energy, and Private Water markets.

Self-Performance Capabilities

Our projects move ahead smoothly because we have total control over the construction process.

Field construction efforts are supported by a large, up-to-date equipment fleet. Our competitive rental rates provide added cost-saving value to our Owners.

Leadership Staff

Registered engineers (P.E.), graduate engineers, construction technology grads and experienced field superintendents provide leadership on every project. They focus on setting the standard for construction excellence.

Collaboration

Long before the word "Partnering" became cliché, our construction teams were finding ways to increase the level of trust and cooperation between project team members.

Teamwork

Conducting our business in the spirit of problem-solving and teamwork is the cornerstone of Bowen's culture, and partnering is an integral component on every project.

Divisions

Having self-performed over 1,000 projects in the heavy and utility construction market, we now offer services in many different areas, including:

Power-Energy
Industrial
Private Water
Public Works
Performance Contracting
